Text Books—Professional and Scientific papers of the United States Coast Survey, in addition to those on this subject in the Engineering course.

Students on these two courses will be under the direction of Prof. A. H. Buchanan. They may pursue these studies during nine months of the collegiate year and spend the three months of vacation in actual field-work.

Prof. Buchanan is in charge of the Geodetic Survey of Tennessee, under the direction of the United States Coast Survey, and spends the time not required for his college duties, in this work. The instruments are furnished to him by the government, and are the best to be had, and the work done is the most accurate possible. Through the courtesy of the Superintendent of the Coast Survey, Prof. Buchanan is permitted to use these instruments in his class instruction.

*Recited in the afternoon.

These unusual facilities are afforded students in this line for observing the practical operations of Astronomy and Geodesy.

The Tennessee Base Line, from which the triangulation of the State is to be made, is situated at Lebanon. Prof. Buchanan measured it during the summer of 1877, and is now making observations for the determination of its Latitude and Azimuth.

Various select courses may be pursued, for which, however, no degrees are conferred.

Students recite International Law and Constitution of the United States in the Law Department, with the Junior Law Class, to the Chancellor of the University, without any additional fee.

EXPENSES.

Freshman and Sophomore (20 weeks), in advance.	$30 00
Junior and Senior, “ “ “	35 00
Contingent fee in all classes	5 00
Laboratory fee for Junior and Senior.	2 00
Boarding per week, with private families,	3 50 to 5 00
Fee for the degrees of A.M. and Ph.D., each,	30 00

Students entering within three weeks of the opening are charged for the full term.

Candidates for the ministry are exempt from the Tuition, but are required to pay all other fees.

If they shall ever voluntarily abandon the ministry, or shall not connect themselves with some department of church work, they will be required to remit to the Treasurer the full amount of tuition fees, according to the regular charges.

Sons of ministers, upon presentation to the Treasurer of a certificate from their parents or guardian, stating their inability to pay, will be exempt from the tuition fees.

No student will be permitted to recite before matriculating, unless he has made a previous arrangement with the Faculty.

Total necessary expenses, including books, per term of twenty weeks, $116 to $170. This does not include expenses for clothing.

CLUB BOARDING

Is much cheaper and nearly as pleasant. Clubs of from six to ten, by renting a small cottage, procuring furniture, hiring a servant and purchasing supplies, can board themselves comfortably, every item of expense being included, at from ten to twelve dollars each per month. Quite a number of the best students are boarding in this way.

FINANCIAL AGENT.

Rev. J. D. Kirkpatrick is the agent of the Board for securing endowments and contributions.

He has served the Board faithfully thus far, and they commend him with renewed confidence to the friends of the University. His report to the Board of Trustees, for the past year, will show a prospective endowment of $30,000. This, added to the amounts contained in his previous reports, and in the reports of former agents, will aggregate something over $100,000, as the total prospective endowment. It is hoped that a part of it will be realized within the next collegiate year.

CARUTHERS HALL

Is another evidence of the unbounded liberality of the friends of the University in Lebanon, and of a few from a distance, and of the energy of the Financial Agent. This splendid structure, built after the latest architectural style, is nearly one hundred feet from base to spire, and contains two recitation rooms for the Law Department, two Society Halls, a Library, and a chapel whose seating capacity is about seven hundred. It will be dedicated in the presence of the General Assembly, at its next sitting in May.

Thus are fulfilled, in part at least, the hopes of ardent friends, and thus is verified the University Motto, adopted in times of desolation, "E cineribus surgam."

SUGGESTIONS TO OUR PATRONS.

If possible, every student should enter the institution the first day of each Term. Minors should never be left to select their boarding house or course of studies, nor should they ever be allowed to open accounts in the stores. The general course of study has great advantages over all special courses.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The University Library contains nearly 7,000 volumes. The reading Room will be supplied with daily papers and other periodicals. These are open every day except Sunday. Considerable addition has been made to the Library since our last Catalogue.

PICTURE GALLERY.

Connected with the Library and Reading Room is a Picture Gallery, containing the portraits of former officers of the University, its distinguished patrons and graduates of all the departments. It is here earnestly requested of each alumnus that he forward to the Librarian, as soon as convenient, his photograph with his autograph attached, and the date of his graduation.

CABINET OF MINERALS AND FOSSILS.

This includes many fine specimens, and large additions have been made during the year. The friends of the University will confer a great favor by sending to the Professor of Natural Science anything of this kind that they can secure.

The Philosophical and Chemical apparatus is amply sufficient for the full illustration of the course.

GRADING.

The parent or guardian of each student is furnished with a monthly statement of the standing of his son or ward, signed by the Chancellor of the University. The grading card also shows the number of times the student is present and absent, and present without preparation, during the month. The number of daily recitations required of each student is three, while many have four.

PRIZE.

The Edward M. Neal prize is awarded to the best declaimer of the Preparatory School.

COLLEGE CODE.

The laws of the University are rigidly enforced, and all embraced in the motto, "Semper præsens, semper paratus."

ROUTES TO LEBANON.

A daily train from Nashville gives easy connection with all railroads. Several stage lines run from interior towns to Lebanon.

The next term begins September 2, 1878.

LAW SCHOOL.

PROFESSORS.

ROBERT L. CARUTHERS.

NATHAN GREEN.

ANDREW B. MARTIN.

JUNIOR CLASS.

Caruthers's History of a Law Suit, Stephen's Pleading, Kent's Commentaries, Greenleaf's Evidence, first volume.

SENIOR CLASS.

Barton's Suit in Equity, Story's Equity Jurisprudence, Bishop's Criminal Law, Parsons on Contracts.

This course may be completed in ten months. Students may begin in September or January. It is believed that every subject likely to be encountered in practice will be found treated in the course. As only ten months are required, students will be expected to enter promptly at the beginning of each term.

Those who read the Junior course privately and apply for admission to the Senior Class, with a view to graduation, will be subjected to a rigid examination. If it is approved by the Faculty, the candidates will take their places in the Senior class on the same footing as other members. It is most earnestly urged, however, upon all who possibly can, that they enter the Junior class. Failing to do so, they miss much of the practice and drilling in elements and in forms taught in that class every term. A license to practise and a diploma will be given to all who are graduated.

No previous reading of law or any special literary qualification will be required to enter the school. The common law, applicable in all the States, is taught, though not by lectures. The law is in the text books. The Professor can no more make law than the student himself. It is better, therefore, that the student be required to learn a portion of the text and be subjected to an examination in the presence of his class each day. It is the business of the Professor to conduct this examination, and explain difficult passages when necessary.

That full justice may be done to the students, two of the Professors of this Law School devote their whole time to the work. Regular lectures on the law are not delivered, as they would only divert the minds of the students from their daily work. Every subject upon which a lecture could be given has been exhausted by the ablest Professors, and printed in books after the most careful revision by the authors. We would regard it as an imposition on students, and as presumptuous on our part, to pretend that we could improve upon Kent, Story, Greenleaf, Parsons and others, who have given to the public, in printed form, and acceptable to all, lectures on every branch of the law. We, therefore, think it better for the student to occupy his time in learning, with our assistance, what others have written, than in learning from anything we could write. If our mode of teaching is more difficult for us, it is much more profitable to the student.

Moot courts constitute an important feature. Every student is required to bring suits in the forms adapted to all our courts. Professors act as judges, and students act by turns as jurors, clerk and sheriff.

There are two sessions. The first term for the years 1878-9 begins first Monday in September and ends January 16th. Second term begins January 20th and ends June 5th, 1879. Books of the Junior Class may be bought in Lebanon for $35; Senior Class $45.

Boarding in families, $3.50 to $5 per week. Tuition fee, $60. Contingent fee, $5. Washing, lights and fuel, $25 to $35 per session. The whole expense of attending the school, one term of twenty weeks, $160 to $190. This does not include books and clothing.

Graduates pay a diploma fee of $5.

All graduates are invited to remain another year free of charge.

NEW PROFESSOR.

Although the former Professors expect in the future, as in the past, to devote their whole time to the work of the school, it has been thought wise by the Trustees to add to the faculty of instruction the name of Andrew B. Martin, Esq., of the Lebanon bar, who has consented to give his valuable services whenever the exercises of the school may require. He is in the prime of life, fresh and well informed in the practice, of deservedly high standing with the profession, and has large experience.

NEW BUILDING.

A new and superb building, Caruthers Hall, has recently been completed. It has been named in honor of Judge Robert L. Caruthers, on whose ground and by whose munificence, in great part, the building was erected. Others contributed nobly, but he more than any. In this elegant structure the Law School will hereafter be conducted.

Next term begins September 2, 1878.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

FACULTY.

NATHAN GREEN, LL.D., Chancellor.
RICHARD BEARD, D.D., Theology.
S. G. BURNEY, D.D., Biblical Literature.
W. H. DARNALL, D.D., Church History.
R. V. FOSTER, Hebrew and Greek.

LECTURERS.

A. J. BAIRD, D.D., Pastoral Work.
J. B. LINDSLEY, D.D., Recent Church History.

It is well known that the course of study has been extended to twenty months. That it is still short enough, every one, looking to the interest of the Church, will readily admit. It is only four months shorter, however, than that of most Theological Seminaries. It is, of course, not possible to say, once for all, what text books and references the classes will from time to time be required to use. They will always know in due time what works to purchase, and the cost of them will not be too much for the poorest. The course will be taught in part by lectures. The necessary reference works are in the Libraries, and the students will be expected to consult them. It will be noticed that nothing is included in the course of study which does not bear directly upon the study of the Bible and the history of the church, under the old and new covenants. It is not economical, neither of time, nor strength, nor money, to require that to be taught in a Theological School which is already taught in all the Academies and Colleges throughout the country. Nor is it worth while to attempt to teach that which the student is not prepared to understand. It is a waste, both of labor and time. Hence the following outline is made on the supposition, not that the student is a thorough Bachelor of Arts graduate, but that he has pursued at least such an academic course as will enable him to appreciate and understand his theological studies. Of course he may, if he prefers, devote himself exclusively to the English part of the course; but if he wishes to graduate, he must also study the original Scriptures. He ought to do this.

BOARDING.

The building hitherto occupied by the Academic Class is now in the exclusive control of the Theological School. Candidates for the Ministry, reciting in any of the classes of the University, as well as the Theological students proper, are furnished rooms gratis in this building. They usually form a club, buy their own provisions and hire a cook. Living in this way is quite comfortable, and may be had for $7 or $8 per month. Or if the student prefers, he can occupy one of these rooms and board with a neighboring family. Or he can both board and lodge with a private family, and pay from $12 to $16 per month. No tuition is charged, but both candidates and Theological students proper pay a contingent tax of $3 to $5 per term. Next term begins September 2, 1878.

AMASAGASSEAN SOCIETY.

"Nos Palma Manet."

This Society was organized in 1837, by the advice of Dr. R. Beard, who was then Professor of Languages in Cumberland College, Princeton, Ky., now Professor of Theology in Cumberland University. The following gentlemen were its first charter members: R. E. Ewing, E. L. Ross, J. N. Roach, — McGhee and J. B. Cherry. Judge Robert L. Caruthers was elected to deliver the first address. Judge Nathan Green, Sr., was elected the first honorary member.

In 1842, Cumberland College was transferred to Lebanon, Tenn., and the name changed to Cumberland University. The Society was transferred at the same time. A new charter was obtained from the Legislature of Tennessee in 1848, with the following as charter members: H. R. Owen, Jesse Aldridge, W. L. Bone, J. L. McDowell, S. B. Vance, T. H. Jamison, R. G. Harper and Nathan Green, Jr.

The officers of the Society are President, Vice-President, Critic and Treasurer, elected quarterly. Two orators are elected semi-annually, to deliver orations, at the intermediate exercises in January and at the commencement in June. A valedictorian is elected annually. In the spring of 1869 another honor was added, that is, Medalist, a $35 gold medal being given to the best debater.

This Society was organized in 1844, for the purpose, as expressed in the constitution, of "cultivating the powers of forensic eloquence and morals" of its members. During the thirty-four years of its existence, its record has been unexcelled, and among its ex-members are numbered many of the most prominent alumni of the University.

HEURETHELIAN SOCIETY.

“Γινῶθι τὸν Θεόν. Γινῶθι σεαυτόν.”

This Society meets every Saturday night, in a commodious, neatly-carpeted, well-furnished hall.

The exercises consist of orations, essays, declamations and debate. Exercises for one night: one oration, time fifteen minutes; one essay, time ten minutes; two declamations, time ten minutes each; debate, participated in by four members, time fifteen minutes to each disputant. After the regular debate, the Society may engage in miscellaneous debate. The members are stimulated to give special attention to parliamentary law and practice.

Many who have gone out from this Society, which is the youngest in the University, are taking prominent positions in life, and thus show the earnest heed they have given to the Society's motto, “Know thy God: Know thyself.”
